Continuation of 5. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because: of the reasons set forth in the prior office action. The arguments are not persuaisve. Particularly, the claims do not exclude the employment of C6 alkylglycol; The cited prior art fairly suggest the employment of alkylglycol in the claimed method, i.e., applying a composition comprising the alkylglycol berfore, during, or after heating the hair. Applicants claim a big subgunus of the alkylglycol, C5 to C3 alkyl glycol. Protecting hair is a common funciton of hair care product, absent evidence showing somne new and unexpected benefit unique to the claimed subgenus, the claim have been properly rejected.
